

Watch the ICF Junior and U23 Canoe Sprint World Championships on TV and online

WELLAND – CanoeKayak fans will be able to watch the 2013 ICF Junior and U23 Canoe Sprint World Championships on television and online as 70 countries compete in Welland, ON from August 1 to 4.

Online Streaming & On-Demand Viewing

CanoeNiagara2013.etherelive.tv

All four days of the Championships will be live-streamed on the Canoe Niagara website starting at 9 a.m. EST each day. The site is available for viewing around the globe. Viewers who miss the live action or want to watch a race again will be able to access video-on-demand replays on the same site.

Television

The Championships will be broadcast on Sportnet in Canada at select times from Wednesday to Sunday. Sportsnet is the official broadcast partner of CanoeKayak Canada.

Sportsnet Broadcast Schedule

CanoeKayak Canada is the national governing body for competitive paddling in Canada. The organization's vision is to be a Canadian sport for families, communities and champions. From supporting clubs to developing a competitive National Team, CanoeKayak Canada works to grow a sport which is a rich part of Canada's heritage.

Competition Schedule & Results

Canadian Team Media Guide

-30-

Media Contact:

Ian Miller
Communications and Marketing Officer, CanoeKayak Canada
613.314.1352
imiller@canoe kayak.ca